Feature releases May 2024

Updated February 20, 2026

Select orders to export

It was already possible to filter and then download an export later. While that is useful, it didn't cover every use case.

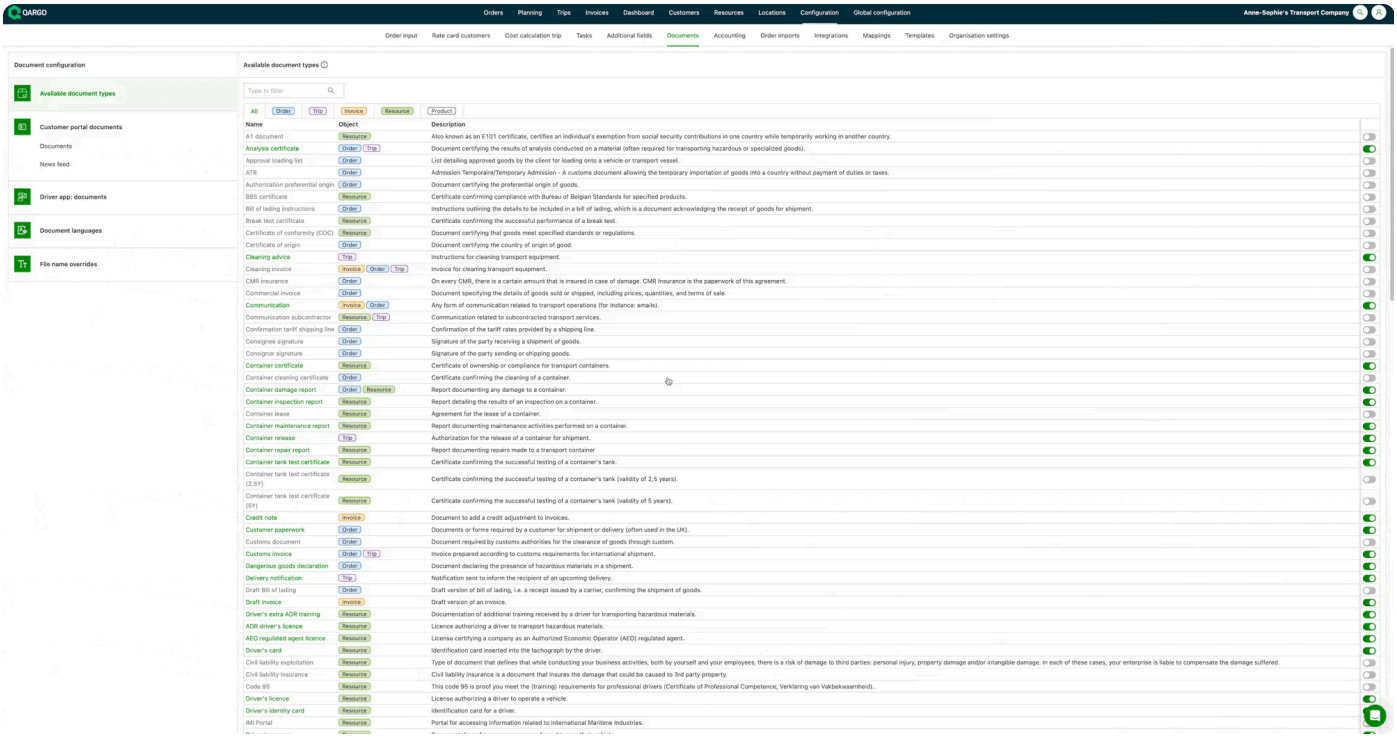

Now, users can easily cherry-pick the orders to export. This feature is also available on the customer portal.

Filter and navigate through the document types in Configuration

The document types page in Configuration has been updated for easier navigation and activation.

Each document type now includes a description, which helps users decide whether it fits their needs. Header filters have also been added to quickly find document types related to Orders, Loads, and more.

After enabling the relevant document types, users can also make them available in the customer portal. Customers can view and download documents (View option) or upload their own (Upload option).
