Mobile app user access by license plate

Updated June 10, 2024

Read this if mobile phones are assigned per vehicle instead of per driver
It is now possible to assign the use of the Qargo mobile app per vehicle and then activate mobile app access.

Transport companies cannot always, or do not always want to, give drivers access to the mobile app using their personal email addresses.

Sometimes they employ agency or day drivers to drive their vehicles. They may also want to control which email addresses are in use, or link the mobile app to a specific vehicle.

The mobile app can now be linked to vehicles as well as drivers. An email address can be added in the Mobile section of the relevant resource:

