Video: Chat-based validation rules (Qargo Intelligence)

Qargo has a built-in AI agent that lets users create order capture validation rules themselves just by describing them in plain language. The rules block a submission and show a warning. Describe the rule, test it against a real order, and enable it.

Two prerequisites to create chat-based validation rules:

- Qargo Intelligence must be enabled in the account.
- The user must be a super admin to configure this.
