Video: Rates module redesign

The charge configuration editor inside rate cards has been redesigned. The functionality is identical. This is purely a UI overhaul of how calculation blocks are configured and read when editing a price on a rate card.

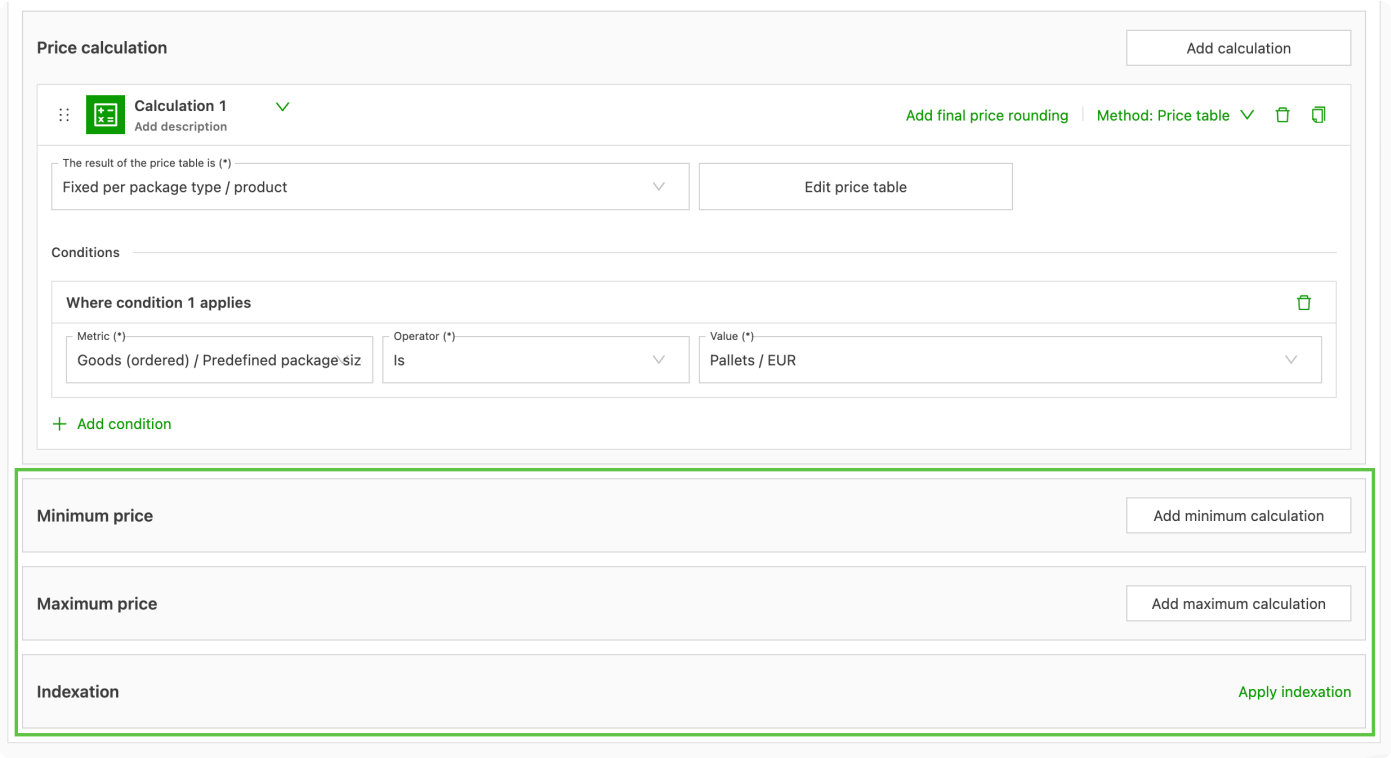

Updated August 10, 2026

This video highlights the main changes between the old and new Rates editor (Dutch version below):

▶ https://watchclueso.com/embed/awzhbbs0zcll1rbw

✅ Calculation logic and rounding behavior are completely unchanged.

The video shows the changes to the user interface of an existing rate card. When a new rate card is created, the screen is compact and shows clear action buttons.

As soon as a calculation or price has been added, the fields become collapsible.

Read all about it here: Rates FAQ: Why does the Rates module look different?